MORE

THAN

Digital Opportunities

AN

EVENT

foodpro has an engaged digital audience that interacts with the brand beyond an exhibition.

WHAT?

foodpro is Australia's leading platform dedicated to showcasing the design innovation, new technology and latest solutions in the food processing, packaging and manufacturing space. Beyond an yearly event, foodpro's digital opportunities are a platform for advertisers to create new conversations with a dedicated audience of 45,000+ industry professionals.

WHY?

As the industry and broader population faces rapidly changing processes, foodpro remains a digital nexus for brands to promote the latest in food manufacturing, processing, packaging, technology and ingredients with an engaged online audience. Our digital content reflects the industry trends, innovations and technological advances that demonstrate how the Australian food manufacturing industry remains at the forefront of innovation.

WHO?

Industry professionals consume foodpro's content to source connections, create networking opportunities and product updates. Editorial contributions are sourced from partner publications, freelance writers and exhibiting/sponsoring brands.

Our Audience

Over the history of the event, foodpro has built a qualified audience of key decision-makers from across the Asia Pacific region. foodpro connects this audience to new markets via communications channels including the website and new customised digital opportunities.

From food technologists to production and technical managers, engineers and operations and R&D developers, foodpro is where the food processing and manufacturing industry gathers.
